

A practitioner of Machado Jiu-Jitsu can easily flow from one lock to another, in harmony with anything his opponent may try . . .

Locks are perfected through constant drilling, so the practitioner applies them instinctively and flows automatically, without conscious thought.

Rigan Machado